

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT BETWEEN
GADSDEN INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT
AND
NEW MEXICO STATE UNIVERSITY

A. Partners to the Agreement

This Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) between New Mexico State University ENLACE (NMSU ENLACE) and the Gadsden Independent School District is to provide services indicated in the Scope of Work as outlined in Attachment A for the period of August 15, 2014 to August 17, 2015.

B. Statement of Need

The work of the Southern New Mexico ENLACE is to empower participants through three core integrated programs that constitute an institutional pathway. These programs consist of the ENLACE Academic Curriculum for Excellence (A.C.E.) for middle and high school students, Parent mentoring, and Exitó! (success for university students) program through culturally responsive methods of education in supportive student learning communities.

Parent mentoring has a powerful influence on children's academic achievement. Numerous studies have supported the claim that when parents are involved, children earn higher grades, receive higher scores on tests, have lower absentee rates, turn in greater amounts of homework, demonstrate positive attitudes toward school, graduate from high school, and more likely to enroll in college.

Parents desire to become more involved with their child's education; that is a desire for more opportunities to be academically and socially involved as means of increasing opportunities and experiences that are available to them and to their children. In turn, so that gaps can continue to be filled and so that all involved in the education process can grow and succeed. ENLACE recognizes that parents want to know more about their child's educational opportunities, especially parents who are not college or high school graduates themselves.

ENLACE Southern will support schools by collaboratively creating a parent mentoring program that supports families and students in order for students to stay in school, graduate, and transition to post-secondary education. The overall goal of the ENLACE/GISD parent mentoring project is to include parents, school personnel, and students to meaningfully engage and have a stronger presence in the academic preparation of their children.

C. Goals of the Agreement

The strategic priorities of ENLACE NMSU are to prepare all students successfully to graduate from high school and prepare them to be college ready when they enroll at NMSU and/or Dona Ana Community College. ENLACE Southern goals are: 1) Ensure access and success into higher education of those students enrolled in the GISD; 2) Foster belief that all students can achieve and graduate from the university; 3) To install a solid foundation for student growth, development, and persistence so that students are retained and graduate; and 4) Using parents social and cultural capital, parents and school staff will recognize and understand the value of their capital contributing to the development of an academic and cultural identity leading to success.

D. Organizational Process

ENLACE Southern will assist the parents of the GISD middle and high schools by identifying and linking educational support resources and materials for Parent mentoring their child and mentoring other parents.
