Ambriz, Jose		Please fix the heater in P11. Teacher reports: before, it would change temperature, but it took several hours to do so. Now, the temperature does not change at all and is constant around 56F despite any setting changes. The usual "click" sound heard when the unit is on cannot be heard at all. It is uncomfortably cold for my students during labs and due to safety reasons, they must roll up their sleeves when performing experiments.

Ontiveros, Joe	Please fix the gas burner in P11's science lab. The teacher tried changing the hose and it didn't solve the issue. There are two hoses connected at each station and the other works just fine. They have placed a red piece of tape on the hose, so maintenance knows which one to work on.		reroute to plumber

I (Laura Gomez/Data Entry Clerk) do not have an extra set to keep on hand nor do I have any to issue as extras. Once these are cut if they can please be handed/dropped off to myself (Laura Gomez/Data Entry Clerk) in the Admin Bldg/Front Office. If we can possibly get these cut as soon as possible it would be greatly appreciated, thank you.

Hernandez, Guillermo

The wall that has the smartboard in front of it is showing signs of water intrusion. This is concerning from the standpoint that within the last week students have been commenting about a smell in the room. It could be related to this water intrusion. I am revising this order also to include browned tiles on the ceiling. There may be water intrusion that is making the insulation and other materials above the ceiling rot and mold. I have ran the air filter machine all last night, and have it on full blast this morning, but the kids have been complaining about the smell, and I am not sure if what we are breathing in is safe or the product of mold above the ceiling tiles. Pictures of the wall and ceiling tiles are submitted below. Reported on 9/27/23

9/27/23 Contacted Carlos to check out this area and to inform Memo of findings - mkv
